Travel directions to Janssen Infectious Diseases and Vaccines, the Netherlands

The Janssen Infectious Diseases and Vaccines offices in Leiden are located in four buildings: Main building, Ypsilon building, Valerio building and the Cube. All buildings are close to each other, at the most a few minutes walk. The Main building and the Ypsilon building have a reception desk. Below you will find the directions to these buildings. The Valerio building and the Cube do not have a reception desk. If the Janssen employee you have an appointment with works in the Valerio building or the Cube, he/she will have to pick you up at the reception desk in the Main building.

By car

From Amsterdam (A4)

From highway A4 take highway A44, direction Leiden-West. Take exit 8, Leiden. At the traffic lights, take a left turn and follow direction Leiden/ Utrecht. You are now on the Plesmanlaan. At the third set of traffic lights turn left into the Bio Science Park. You are now on the Einsteinweg. Take the first turn right (immediately after the Hoogheemraadschap). After 250 meters you will see the Main building of Janssen on your left. To go to the Ypsilon building turn right in front of the Main building, to the Newtonweg. You will see a parking lot in front of you. The Ypsilon building is the first building on your right, with a big yellow triangle above the entrance.
